AIR BRAKE EXPERT
DELIVERS A SERIES
OF LECTURES HERE;
SAFETY IS KEYNOTE

Frank Sherman, of Mobile, Will Speak Twice Daily to the Shopmen

BETTER EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN ALSO IS PLEA

Evangel of Safety Being Heard by Large Crowds at the Shops

Frank Sherman, of Mobile, Louisville and Nashville air brake expert, is delivering a series of lectures to road and shop men at the local railroad shops. He spoke last night as usual and yesterday morning at 9:30. Mr. Sherman speaks to the road men in the mornings and to the shop men at night. The lecturer is proving an inspiring evangel in behalf of better air brake service and more loyal cooperation in the big army of Louisville and Nashville workers. A better brand of patriotism, morals and religious consistency, is also being contended for by Mr. Sherman, in an incidental manner.

He said: "I am not even a Sunday School teacher, much less a preacher, but I just want to talk to you men, 'man to man,'" said Mr. Sherman near the close of his technical lecture.

"As one American citizen to others, do you realize that the little children of today must run the country in the future? It makes no difference, how you live, your boy thinks his father is the greatest and best man in the world. Even if you send your children to Sunday School and church, it will accomplish little unless you take them by the hand and go with them. I read lately in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat that there are about twenty million people in the United States, who have no religious training what ever and 60 per cent of the people of this nation are affiliated with no church. If we go on like we have of late, the prospect for good citizenship seems bad, and for Bolshevism good. The sacrifices you may have to make in order to give your children an education should be considered light. The cheap pleasures you can buy at the expense of your children will make you sorry some day. With an education there is no limit to the children's possibilities; with none, you are preparing them for possible disgrace and maybe, prison walls."

Cooperation Necessary.

In his regular address, as arranged for by Master Mechanic C. W. Matthews, Mr. Sherman gave a comprehensive view of the entire problem of air breaks and air break appliances. The speaker made a special point of showing how a complete scientific "check" is possible, on all the work done on the entire "train line". He accomplished this by the use of a car fitted up with all the appliances as used on a railroad train, in application of air breaks. It was shown that the enginemen in the locomotive cab, can make "sure" tests, showing whether or not there are any leaks in the air "train line" and that it was useless for the shopmen to deny such leaks by saying that they could not hear them. It was explained that what was meant in railroad-speak by being in too big a hurry was for employes to neglect to thoroughly test out every part of the air break system, from one end of the train to the other, before allowing the road engine to be coupled to it.

Careful preparation in the shops, was shown to save many hours to the train crews, and to prevent trains from running late. The reasons and remedies for "sticking breaks," were given. The detail work necessary to insure all the breaks coming on practically at once, and "releasing" in the same way, was shown to begin with the preparation of the pumps and valve seats by the machinists, to the perfect connections made all along the train line by the other mechanics and inspectors.

Saving the Public

The duty of railroad employes to protect the public to the limit was especially stressed by the speaker. By way of illustration Mr. Sherman said: "Take the case of a mother with her children in an automobile. She tries to beat a long train across a crossing; but the auto engine stalls midway on the track. If the entire train line is in perfect condition, with no air leaks, it will be possible for the engineer, to put on the emergency air breaks at

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO THE MEMORY OF
DECEASED LAWYER

Tribute was paid to the memory of the late Col. Samuel T. Wert by the Morgan County Bar Association at a called meeting yesterday when the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, our friend and brother, S. T. Wert, the Nestor of the local bar in active practice at the time he was stricken, has been transferred from our ranks to appear before the Judge of all the earth;

AND WHEREAS, Mr. Wert for more than a generation shed imperishable renown upon our bar as one unsurpassed as an advocate; distinguished by a succession of almost unprecedented forensic victories, won by sterling common sense; superior accomplishments as a cross examiner; intuitive knowledge of human nature; "infinite jest," a scorn of all narrow technicalities; a most magnetic personality; and a gift of overpowering eloquence that often swayed his hearers, even as the monarchs of the forest are bowed before the resistless march of the storm king;

BE IT RESOLVED: That in the passing of Mr. Wert the community has been bereft of a most genial spirit; and a considerate and accommodating neighbor; and benefactor; his family has been deprived of a fond and indulgent father; and the bar has lost a chivalrous, and able member, who enlivened every common place subject by his rare wit, felicitous humor, and engaging qualities of both head and heart; and all circles in which he moved will feel the void occasioned by the translation of one who was the center of attraction whenever and wherever he appeared.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That we will cherish his memory; that we will dwell in retrospect upon the stirring and victorious scenes in which he was so often, and for so long a period, the compelling figure; and will strive to emulate his many excellencies of mind and character.

RESOLVED FURTHER: That we tender to his sorely stricken loved ones our sincerest sympathies in their hour of trial;

RESOLVED FURTHER: That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to his family; and a copy be submitted to each of the several courts of record of our County to be enrolled upon their records as a lasting memorial to one who was, perhaps, for a long time, the most striking personality in our midst.

Respectfully submitted,

C. L. PECK.

HUNTSVILLE, ALA., July 28.—An attempt was made Monday night to wreck the eastbound New York Special on the Southern Railroad by miscreants who placed some cross-ties on the track between Madison and Huntsville it became known here today. However the train was delayed about thirty minutes while the track was being cleared.

HARTSELLE RESIDENT SPENDS THOUSANDS

Ernest Lynn to Have New Industrial Community Near Apple Grove

A new city soon is to spring into existence in Morgan County and bids fair to give older communities a run for their money, as a result of developments now in progress near the headwaters of Cotaco Creek, west of Apple Grove, in the eastern part of this county.

Ernest Lynn, a prominent resident of Hartselle, is constructing two dams on the creek, which are expected to generate sufficient electrical power to operate a number of industries now being planned for the section. Work on Dam Number 1 now is being rushed to completion. The improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 it is expected.

The developments are being made on what is known as Big Four ranch, a tract comprising approximately 5,500 acres. The back waters from the dam are expected to inundate between 100 and 150 acres.

It is understood that an overall factory and a large cotton gin will be constructed there as soon as the dam is finished, to be followed immediately by a school house and a number of dwellings. It was stated here today that 600,000 feet of timber has been purchased for the construction of buildings, including 20 houses, at an early date. A large crew of workmen are now engaged in the construction of the dam.

U. S. Tax Relief

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 28.—Declaring that the present system of Federal taxation is responsible for the existing business depression, because it has reduced the purchasing power of the people, a delegation representing the committee of manufacturers and merchants on Federal taxation, appeared today before the house ways and means committee and urged the repeal of all excise, excess profits and corporation taxes. The increase inheritance taxes and the establishment of a tax on all land not actually used for agriculture.

The delegation contended the taxation of land values would not injure business and that it would promote building, solve the house shortage, provide employment for thousands of workers and stimulate all the building trades.

Difficulties of Alabama-Tennessee League at Last Are Ironed Out

PROSPECT GOOD FOR A SUCCESSFUL FINISH

Cowie Announces Details of Settlement of the Baseball Wrangle

Sheffield is back in the fold of the Alabama-Tennessee league, President Gordon Cowie, who has been here attending a meeting of officials of the league, announced today.

The Sheffield franchise, which President Cowie said had been forfeited to the league, was returned to Thurman Harris and associates of Sheffield. President Cowie announced that the original forfeit of $800, which all of the clubs in the league put up at the beginning of the season, has been forfeited and the Harris syndicate posted a new forfeit of like amount. In addition, President Cowie stated the Sheffield club was fined $300 in connection with the failure to play the three games scheduled at Athens this week.

With the difficulties ironed out, league moguls expressed the hope and the belief that the loop will go forward to a successful second half of the split season. With Athens replacing Russellville, the circuit is much more compact and the financial road is expected to be much smoother in the second half than it was in the first.

Athens will get a share of her financial loss refunded, President Cowie stated. The fine and forfeit are said to have been already paid into the league treasury and Athens will get a share. None of the three games scheduled at Athens the first half of the week were played.

The exact financial standing of the original Sheffield club was not known to President Cowie, he said, but the forfeit placed with the league at the beginning of the year will cover all salary claims players might hold against the club, he said.

Since the season opened the Tri-Cities have always drawn well and until the final days of the first half, the Triplets were in the thick of the pennant fight. Sheffield has a number of first class ball players and with good management and whole hearted backing of the fans, the team is expected to do well the second half.

Threatening Letter is Received by Mayor Who Arrested Shouters at Negro Revival, Writers Are "White"

FLORENCE, ALA., July 28.—The most recent chapter in Mayor Delos H. Bacon's drama on the negro "protracted meeting alleged nuisance, took place about three o'clock yesterday afternoon when the Mayor instructed the Chief of Police Dan F. Eastap to bring all the negro ministers to his office for "a lecture." This the chief refused to do so and the Mayor informed him that he was suspended for insubordination.

When asked about the matter this afternoon Chief Eastap stated that he refused to obey the Mayor's instructions on the ground that he considered the negroes of the city had a right to congregate for the purpose of public worship. He stated that the other two members of the city commission had notified him that the Mayor's threat to suspend him would not be carried out.

The hearing of the charges of "disturbing public worship"—preferred against Mayor Delos H. Bacon by Luke Kimbrough, a negro drayman, was today postponed by Justice Hill to an unnamed date next week.

The Mayor yesterday morning received an anonymous letter, written evidently by an illiterate person on a sheet of unruled yellow paper.

The gist of the letter was that Mr. Bacon was to be allowed twenty-four hours from the receipt of the letter to retire from office. It closed with the threat that if the warning was not heeded "something worse would follow."

At the bottom of the letter there appears a crude drawing of a tree with a rope thrown over a limb and at the bottom was scrawled, "We are white, so don't accuse the negroes."

The following is a copy of the letter as it was spelled:
"Mayor Bacon:
"We will give you 24 hours to require from office and get down and out. If this is not heeded something worse will follow: (The picture of the three follows—then the words.) "We are white—so don't accuse the Negroes."

The Mayor regards the letter as the prank of some practical joker and attaches no significance to it.

There appears to be no ill feeling on the part of the negroes toward the Mayor. The "protracted" meet at the corner of Court and Alabama streets had a capacity house last night and following the services at the church there were several noisy street corner meetings similar to those broken up by the Mayor the night before.

With regard to the statement made by Green, the negro preacher, in a letter published in The Florence News yesterday, Mayor Bacon states that Green was not arrested as stated in his letter and further states that it is his opinion that the negroes arrested by him at this instance were intoxicated at the time of the arrests.

Another Offer for Big Project Expected to be Filed Shortly

ALMON IS IN FAVOR OF GIVING PLANT TO FORD

Alabama Representative Explains Why Auto Magnate's Offer Seems Best

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 28.—Secretary of War Weeks today stated he has not received a second offer for the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant, but he expected a proposal to be filed shortly.

He declined to say whether the Alabama Power company was the prospective bidder. When the second offer is received it will be carefully studied and then there will be a general conference between government officials, Henry Ford, who was the first bidder, and the makers of the second offer, Secretary Weeks said.

Ford's proposal to take over the Muscle Shoals project is gaining favor in the house. Representative Almon, of Alabama, in whose district the project is located, said today:

"I am in favor of the Muscle Shoals property being taken over by Ford because it would result in the completion of the development and installation of all the water power at Muscle Shoals; the removal of all obstructions to navigation in that part of the Tennessee river; private operation of the biggest nitrogen plant at Muscle Shoals for the manufacture of fertilizer compounds, thereby assuring the farmers of an adequate supply of fertilizer at reasonable cost; a running up-to-date munitions plant for the use of the government without cost if it should be needed for war purposes."

"This would be all that the most enthusiastic advocate of the Muscle Shoals development project has ever hoped for or expected."

MR. EDISON STRIKES BACK

At the time Thomas A. Edison sent out his famous questions, which he said ought to be answered correctly by people who consider themselves educated, as a rule the "electrical wizard" was laughed to scorn, as expecting too much, and for asking so many far fetched questions. Just lately Mr. Edison has come out in a statement severely criticizing the so called educated people, declaring that it is not of importance as to how much "college education" one has but how much "life education" he possesses. In speaking of the modern educational systems, Mr. Edison as set many a tongue to wagging by saying of it:

"Our system of education has always been wrong and it gets worse every day because in the present state of the world we want real, living men everywhere, men who are alive, men who can educate themselves. There are too many dead men walking around drawing salaries. That's what's the trouble with the world." After this severe judgment the great inventor goes on to explain how it happens. There is a danger period for youth," he says. "It occurs between the ages of 12 and 17. These are the formative ages when children can easily be taught. But they must somehow, by some means, become interested in something, no matter what. They must get a keen interest in some simple science, or some little mechanical thing, or in some force of nature. If they are not so awakened the evil takes hold of them and for all the good they will do in the world in later life they are the same as dead."

Mr. Edison contends that those who succeed do so in spite of the system rather than on account of it, and cites cases of many who were "rescued" by taking an interest in wireless telegraphy, to the science of flying and the like. Those who criticize the great scientists' criticism of our educational systems, points out that Edison is embittered against schools, owing to the fact that he made a very poor student, and because he was unwilling to submit to routine studies, was forced out of school at an early age. It also is urged against Mr. Edison that in common with most self-made men the impatient of, and inclined to, despise regular prescribed courses of study. Out of the 160 questions used by Mr. Edison, the following with their answers have appeared in print a number of times:

Q. Where is the River Volga? A. Russia.
Q. What country and city produce the finest china? France; Limoges.
Q. What country consumed the most tea before the war? A. England.
Q. What city is the fur center in the United States? A. St. Louis.
Q. In what country other than Australia are kangaroos found? A. Tasmania, New Guinea and New Zealand.
Q. What telescope is the largest in the world? A. Lick.
Q. Who was Bessemer and what did he do? A. English engineer. Invented a process for making steel from cast iron by burning out carbon and other impurities through the agency of a blast of air.
Q. Who invented logarithms? A. Napier.
Q. Where is the Sargasso sea? A. Equatorial Atlantic.
Q. What is the greatest depth ever reached in the ocean? A. 32,089 feet.
Q. What state has the largest copper mines? A. Montana.
Q. What state has the largest amethyst mines? A. Texas.
Q. Of what is brass made? A. An alloy of copper and zinc.
Q. Where do we obtain tin from? A. Wales chiefly.
Q. Where

do we get shellac from? A. From lac, a resinous exudation of East India insect.
Q. To what is the change of direction of sun's rays due to the revolution of the earth around the sun.

While many of these questions cannot be answered by the ordinary person, it will be noted that most of them could be found by reference to some good reference, or school text books. Those who cannot answer such questions off handed, take comfort in the statement that education teaches one how to find information as well as to store it, and to calculate such results as are needed, rather than taxing the memory to furnish all needed information.

Voice of People

GREAT REVIVAL AT FALKVILLE
Methodism was born in a revival. A large per cent of the people who know God today have met His Spirit in a revival.

Tuesday at the eleven o'clock hour the power of God came upon the people, and all of the afternoon the voices of men and women could be heard in all directions. At the evening services God came again and some thirty-five or forty received a message from heaven. Old young cried out thanking God for His saving grace.

Dr. J. B. Kendall, of Lexington, Ky., is doing the preaching. Bros. Andrew J. Jones, is doing the singing and the people of the community are doing the praying, and God is doing all the saving.

Let all the people pray that God's Spirit may sweep over our state with its sin killing power.

BEATS MARY'S FAMOUS LAMB

Woolly Lawn Mower Proved of Practical Value to Cincinnati Man During Hot Spell.

Louis Goecke, better known as "Pat" in amateur circles, was mowing the grass on the lawn of his home in Cincinnati recently. In the course of the work he was cutting alongside a hedge with a pair of clippers.

"Ba-a-a," came from the other side of the hedge.

Goecke looked up. A neighbor was sitting on the porch reading. Goecke resumed his clipping.

"Ba-a-a!" sounded again.

Goecke straightened up and shot fierce glances at his neighbor. But the latter's face was concealed back of the newspaper.

The clipping proceeded, and then again came "Ba-a-a!"

Finally Goecke threw down his clippers, stepped to the neighbor's porch, and said:

"Are you geying me?"

The other looked up with surprise. "Geying you? Why, no! What makes you think so?"

"Well, stop that 'ba-ing'!" Goecke said.

"Oh, that's it. I'll show you what that is," and the neighbor went back among the bushes and pulled out a lamb. "I bought it yesterday," he explained.

Immediately Goecke was seized with an idea. "Lend it to me, will you?" he asked. The neighbor was obliging. The lamb finished the grass cutting job, and Goecke enjoyed the cool and quiet of a shady nook on his porch.

GREATEST IN PLAINS STATES

Matter of Farm Risks Established by Records Kept by the Department of Agriculture.

Risks in the production of three great staple crops—corn, wheat and oats—are greatest in the plains states, extending from Texas to North Dakota. This general fact is established by the average deviation of the yield per acre from the average yield, computed by the bureau of crop estimates, Department of Agriculture, for these three crops for each state from the records of 50 years.

On the other hand, the North Atlantic and the western states are regions of comparatively low risk, or deviation of yield per acre from the average, for wheat and oats, and the entire Atlantic coast and the west for corn.

The great corn belt, with its enormous production and surplus above local consumption, is, after all, prominently subject to risks of weather, insects and disease in the production of crops, and, while it would be going too far to say of this region as a whole that the results of its agriculture are either "a feast or a famine," yet there is a tendency in this direction as the area covered by the average becomes more restricted to county, township and individual farm.

Defense, Then Prosecution Rests.

Mr. Shanigan inserted his key quietly; walked softly, undressed silently and crept into bed.

All his precautions were in vain. Mrs. Shanigan had been awake listening and waiting for him. She told him she supposed he had been working at the office again; that she did not believe that story or any other he had ever told her; that she did not have to put up with him; that she could have a career; that even now the committee was waiting to see if she would accept the nomination for mayor; that she had been warned against him; that she was not now the foolish sentimental girl she was when she married him, and then a deep snore showed that—

The defense rested.

Now everyone knows the prosecution should rest first; so Mrs. Shanigan jabbed Mr. Shanigan with her elbow; shook him; fussed, fumed, scolded and wept; but it was no use. He slept on, soundly.

The prosecution also rested.—Katherine Negley, in Judge.

Primitive People.

The natives of St. Hilda, in the Hebrides, have decided to abandon a quaint custom which they have followed for more than a century, of electing their own queen. Hereafter they will take the natural descendant. They have deposed Queen Margot and will recognize Mary as their sovereign. This news comes as the first communication from the island since last September and was brought to London by a vessel which delivered census papers at the island. The natives there speak only Gaelic, but the census papers were printed in English. Otherwise the chief happenings on the island include an influenza epidemic, which caused many deaths. Persons aboard the ship who could converse with the natives said the chief question on the island was whether the war had broken out again.

Ferryboat Pavilion.

As a fitting complement to a swimming pool built on a Connecticut estate recently, a ferryboat pavilion has been erected, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. This boat has all the fittings of a regular craft of its type, being equipped above with a lifeboat, life preservers, funnel and pilot house. The cabin is a spacious dance floor, where diversion from the swimming sport may be indulged in. The swimming pool forms a forward deck for the ferry, and is surrounded by a sidewalk set with benches and chairs.

MISTRESS OF HIGH FINANCE

One Feels That Indianapolis Woman's Abilities Are 'Almost Wasted in the Home.

Some wives are real business women and their husbands are the only ones who do not know it. But Indianapolis holds one who recently proved her business ability to her husband. Now, she had, ever since their marriage, charged things and he had paid the bills, but when he learned that her charges were growing weekly he decided to try a new plan. He went to her. "Now, Elinor," he said, "I'm going to try a new plan. Half of my salary is yours and half mine. We'll each spend just what is necessary and see which can have the most money in the bank at the end of the year."

Delightfully the wife agreed. At the end of the first month she announced her bank balance and her husband was delighted at its size. The next month it was still larger and he was more delighted. But when the third month brought the statement that she had saved more than her half of the money his pleasure knew no bounds. Half fearfully he went after his own statement. What would he do if her bank account now was higher than his—the man who prided himself on his economy?

Then he found that he had no balance. First horror, then amazement and then something indescribable followed his discovery for that condition of affairs existing. His wife had diligently drawn out his savings (they had a double checking account) and applied them to the next month's expenses and saved her own share. Indianapolis News.

Attractiveness of Advertising.

The man who doubts whether advertisements are read is living in the past, says the Shoe and Leather Reporter. Editors are beginning to fear they will be crowded out, so attractive have the advertising pages become. The editor experiences difficulty in holding the attention of his readers today against the picturesque announcements of those who can have all the white space they are able to pay for.

VICTORY CAMPS ON TWINS' TRAIL, BUT SHOWS HERSELF A COSTLY COMPANION

Spitznagel Suffers Broken Leg When He Slides Into Third Base

BILL SELLS AND HIBBETT FIGHT PITCHERS' DUEL

McDuff Out-Generals Mules by Squeezing Home the Winning Run

Long-Bill Sells and Hibbett treated the fans to an unusual entertainment here yesterday, a pitchers' battle, the Twins defeating Columbia 2 to 1. The victory, however, was a dear one, costing as it did the services of Shortstop Spitznagel for the remainder of the season.

Sliding into third in the third inning, Spitz's leg crumbled under him when he caught his spikes in the hard earth and his leg was broken in two places, just above the ankle and just below the knee. He was taken to the office of Dr. H. D. Greer where the bone was reset and later he was removed to the Benevolent hospital.

An additional element of tragedy in Spitz's injury was the fact that he had just completed arrangements for a residence here and was expecting his wife and baby to arrive here Sunday to make this their home for the remainder of the season. He was the second Twin shortstop to be forced out by injuries, Lou Craddock suffering a broken leg in Columbia early in the season.

Honest-to-Goodness Thriller.

With hitters batting averages at the expense of pitchers without freak deliveries and using the now "lively" balls, yesterday's battle stands forth as a glorious achievement for both hurlers. Hibbett allowed only six hits, but two of them came an opportune moments for the Twins. Sells permitted seven blows, but kept them scattered and in addition fanned seven.

Columbia jumped into the lead as soon as Umpire Thomas opened the performance. Flow shot a single to left as a starter and Zemek's suicide advanced the Mule to second. Baker skied to McClain, but Flow went to third after the catch. Shepard hammered a triple down the right field foul line and Flow scored. Smith breezed for the final out of the inning. It was the one and only counter Sells and his hustling teammate permitted the Mules to obtain during the entire afternoon.

For some six innings the run looked like it was enough, for Hibbett was pitching almost unbeatable ball. The Twins threw a scare into the Columbia camp in the sixth, when Lewis opened with a walk and McClain sacrificed him to second, but the needed blow was not forthcoming.

In the opening of the seventh Shelton scratched a hit to Zemek. With Gilliland up, Smith tried to catch Shelton off the base and ran to right field, Shelton taking second. Gilliland popped to Lee. Eaks uncorked his second hit, a long single to center and Shelton scored the tying run.

Johnston lined to Zemek and Sells went out to the Baker-Shepard route.

Hibbett's error in the eighth aided in his own downfall. Lewis again the first Twin to face Hibbett in the inning, worked the count to three-two and then drove a double into Flow's beat. Here again Manager McDuff gave an example of the influence of mind over matter. He completely out-generalized the Mules by playing the game made famous by the old White Sox, hitless wonder of other days, who played for one run at a time. With nobody down, McClain dumped a punt to Hibbett, but the latter fumbled and both runners were safe, Lewis taking third. McDuff continued his bunting game and with the pitch Lewis sped home, while McDuff laid down a perfect bunt for a pretty completion of the squeeze play, both Carter and Shelton, but the Twins had taken unto themselves another baseball encounter. Grey matter, properly used, is a material aid to victory in diamond games, especially close ones.

JUST BURROWS OF ANIMALS

Mystery of What Was Known as the "Devil's Corkscrew" Has Been Considered Solved.

Of the many fossils which have come out of the mountains and plains of the West, few have excited wider interest than the "devil's corkscrew," found in rocks of the Miocene period, in northwestern Nebraska. They are usually white, and stand out clearly against the bluff background of the rock which incloses them, often attaining a length of 15 feet, with many twists and turns, ending at times in a large bulb, with occasional side passages. When first discovered it was thought that these gigantic "corkscrews" were huge petrified vines or roots of some strange plant. Study of the "corkscrews," however, failed to reveal any traces of plant structure. Later the skeleton of an animal like the badger was found in a large bulb near the end of the "corkscrew," and bones of a small camel and small deer were found in others. After that it was discovered that many of them contained bones of a small burrowing animal about the size of the western prairie dog. Excavation of actual prairie dog burrows, after filling them with thin plaster of paris, showed an interesting fact; the burrows of the prairie dog and the prehistoric "corkscrews" were closely similar. The mystery is considered solved.

OLD MYSTERY OF THE SEA

What Became of Fine Liner President Which Disappeared in the Year 1841?

Among the modern sea mysteries none is more baffling than the vanishing of the liner President in 1841. The vessel was the latest word in luxurious ocean travel, having but lately been launched. And that day in March when she sailed from New York for Liverpool every vessel in the North river paid tribute to her size and superiority. She was 268 feet long and of 2,300 tons.

Early in April reports began to filter into America from Liverpool that the President had not arrived, and as the days sped on far into the summer the agony of suspense on both sides the ocean grew. On her passenger list had been the names of many prominent persons, among whom were the celebrated comedian, Tyrone Powers, George G. Cookman and the duke of Devonshire. A few more than 100 passengers were aboard the President.

Whether the President foundered in some violent gale, was sunk or crushed by icebergs, or was destroyed by fire, no man to this day has been able to tell, for not even a splinter of wreckage was ever reported seen.

Antiquity of Porto Rico.

Ethnologists have reason for thinking that Porto Rico and the adjoining islands may have been peopled from the valley of the Orinoco instead of from Yucatan. When first occupied by man Porto Rico may have been a part of a peninsula connected with South America. Its fauna and flora are of the South American type, and it contains relics of a forgotten race which show evidence of a high grade of culture. Few traces of these aboriginals are now to be found except in the interior of the island. Among the curious remains are stone-enclosed plazas, on which ceremonial dances were performed. The remains of carved idols and pottery show no small degree of skill and taste. No traces of stone buildings resembling those of the Mayas are found, but the house are of the South American type.

The Apple of Eden.

From time immemorial the apple has been blamed for being the cause of man's downfall in the garden of Eden. We have even gone so far as to call our Adam's apple by that name in memory of the incident.

As a matter of fact, the word apple does not appear in that part of Genesis treating with the Garden of Eden, the "fruit of the tree" being the words always used. The fallacy arose from the fact that the word apple has in many languages the general meaning of fruit, and that before an English translation of the Bible was permitted the story was incorrectly spread by ignorant churchmen, and thus took root too deeply to be eradicated.

The scripture lesson was taken from 5th chapter of Nehemiah. The study was then taken up, subjects, cooperation. Mrs. Winton brought out many good points on the subject and made the lesson intensely interesting. The meeting closed with the Lord's prayer in concert. A social hour followed. Ice cream and cake were served and a most delightful hour was enjoyed by all. Mrs. C. E. Ballinger of Vicksburg, Miss., was a welcome guest of the society.

BIRTH

Born to Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Motherway, July 18 a son David Kohler, Jr.

Paradise of the Hunter.
Kamchatka forms a peninsula at the extreme southeastern termination of the great Siberian continent. Game is pursued by the inhabitants all the year round except in May, June and July. Sable trapping is a favorite pursuit of the native hunter, the skin of this little animal being accepted as the gold currency of the peninsula.

The business of buying and selling is carried on with the natives through middlemen—Siberians, Chinese and well-to-do Kamchadals—who, while faithfully serving their masters, make a fat living out of it for themselves.

A veritable paradise for the big game hunter, Kamchatka contains reindeer, caribou, big-horn mountain sheep (Ovis monticola), the great gray wolf and many varieties of bear, all in quantities unknown, says an exchange, in any other quarter of the globe.

Suspense.

The moving picture audience was watching a thrilling beauty scene, and stood it pretty well. A five-year-old girl was also watching and stood it about as long as she could. "Say, mother," she piped, in a voice heard all over the theater, "when are they going to put their nighties on?"—Eliza Fua.

Governor Small Located in Chi

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 28.—Governor Len Small, under indictment for misappropriation of state interest funds, whose whereabouts were a mystery early today, was located here shortly before noon.

He had spent the night at a downtown hotel. Governor Small, it was learned, has placed his case in the hands of a committee of five lawyers, who will handle all angles of the litigation. He was in conference today with his attorneys and political advisers.

Governor Small must surrender unconditionally within the confines of Sangamon county, was the ultimatum issued today by the state's attorney.

The representative of Spain at the Paris convention in 1783, Count Aranda, wrote to his monarch, in regard to America, as follows: "This federal republic is born a pygmy. Liberty of conscience, the facility for establishing a new population on immense lands, as well as the advantages of a new government, will draw thither farmers and artisans from all the nations."—Henry Van Dyke.

Chevrolet in Lead

Atlanta, Georgia,
July 13th, 1921.
Chevrolet Motor Company,
Mr. Theo Bradlow, Mgr.,
221 Peachtree St.,
Gentlemen:

I feel that you would be interested enough in our recent trip to New York in my "490" Chevrolet, to appreciate a few words of real facts and actual experience that we had.

On June 23th, I left Atlanta, accompanied by some friends who were anxious to see the big fight between Dempsey and Carpentier, on July 2nd. With luggage sticking out all around my "490" touring car, we hit the roads, through Mount Airy, over King's Mt., and various other mountains and hills. We travelled 335 miles per day without one minute's trouble—not even a puncture on the entire trip, totalling 2,052 miles for the journey.

We enjoyed a wonderful trip at the smallest expense ever dreamed of averaging 24 and 3-8 miles per gallon of gas, and 350 miles to the quart of oil. This being my second "490" Chevrolet, I am now more convinced of the fact that it is the best little car in the world for comfort—economy—and dependability.

With kindest regards to your entire organization, I am

Very truly yours,
W. H. ALBRIGHT

Thousands Have Bad Breath and Don't Know it

Nothing is more offensive than a bad breath. Yet thousands of people suffer with this distressing affliction—and the surprising part of it is that a good part of them do not even realize it. Most people hesitate even to mention this disagreeable subject.

An excellent remedy for bad breath is daily use of an antiseptic mouth wash such as Steroline. A few drops of Steroline on your tooth brush will keep your mouth cool, sweet and fresh. It makes an excellent dentifrice, as it gets between the teeth, reaching all the hidden spots that ordinary tooth pastes and powders cannot reach. It arrests decay which is one of the commonest causes of bad breath and gives your mouth that "clean feeling." Sold and highly recommended by the Albany Drug Co.—Adv.

VIOLA DANA IN NEW CINDERELLA VERSION

(Princess Friday.)

Loveable Cinderella is with us again—or rather her new twin sister, whimsically appealing and sparklingly fresh. She will be seen at the Princess Theatre Friday when the Metro special "Cinderella's Twin" will be featured as the attraction of the bill.

Which is cause for rejoicing. For humor hath it that this picture is one delightful concoction with all the old ever-failing charm. And piquant little Viola Dana is there as the star—the scullery maid who goes straight into a twentieth-century mansion to find the heart of the man she loves.

It has twists aplenty. One of them is the situation where Connie McGill, the little maid, suddenly has to flee the splendor of a ballroom, and in the act drops her slipper, which contained the key to a safety vault holding the jewels sought by thieves. Her prince charming gets the slipper, and wrests into the bargain for the theft.

(Delite Friday.)

That such great courage as Juanita Hansen displays could exist in any human is hardly believable. As the Princess of the Jungle in this seven reel adventure feature she faces the terrors of the forest with a dauntless courage.

The wildest and weirdest stories brought back from the jungles by our most intrepid hunters and adventurers, can hardly compare with the experiences of Miss Hansen in "The Jungle Princess" which shows at the Delite Theatre on Friday.

Every conceivable animal plays a part in this production, and they are not the sort which have relegated to the old folks home, but vicious untamed brutes whose talons and teeth are itching every moment for the beautiful throat of the beautiful star. While extraordinary precautions were necessary in the taking of the picture to protect the life of the players, great chances were taken to make it truly realistic.

GERMAN MAIDS LACK FURNITURE TO MARRY

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 27. — I. Stahl stalling?

This question was asked here when local residents received letters from J. Stahl, Duisburg, Germany, estimating that more than 2,000,000 German women are minus husbands and are devoid of facilities for locating them. Due directly to the superior marks manhood of allied soldiers during the recent World War, Stahl said, these women have not had an opportunity to marry.

Not only are marriages in Germany as scarce as snowdrifts in July, but a shortage of furniture, also, is held responsible, in part, for the dearth of marriages.

Prompt accommodation was assured by Stahl in the event that any person desiring a German wife would write him.

U. S. Gratified at Jap's Acceptance

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Gratified at the response from Japan and optimistic as to the outcome of the joint disarmament and far eastern conference, administration officials today took up in earnest the task of fixing a date for the Washington gathering.

Already there have been informal exchanges of opinion between the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy on this subject and it is expected the question will be taken up with Ambassador Shidehara, of Japan, today.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

IN YOUR HOUSE.

IF YOU are not a careful reader of the Bible you may have the idea that all the miracles which it details are in the New Testament, but if you will turn to the fourth chapter of II Kings you may read an entertaining story of one of the remarkable things performed by Elisha in the multiplication of the pot of oil.

Elisha performed many miracles, but of them all this one is perhaps the most interesting.

A widow, one of the wives of the sons of the prophets, tells Elisha that her creditors have come to take her two sons as bondmen in settlement of what she owes.

Elisha asks her what she has in the house which might be available to settle the debt. Her reply is that her only possession is a pot of oil.

At his direction the woman sends her sons to gather all the empty receptacles in the neighborhood and when they have been brought, she obeys the command of Elisha that she shall pour from the pot of oil into the empty vessels and this she continues to do until all are filled and then she sells enough of the store of oil to pay her debts and there is sufficient left to supply her and her sons.

What have YOU in YOUR house? The trouble with most of us is that we never value very highly the possibilities of what we have.

The apple on the high branch always looks bigger and fairer to us than the one in our hand.

The job that the other fellow has always seems easier and more satisfactory than our employment.

The other man's lot always seems less onerous than ours and his prospects and chances brighter and more attractive.

The trouble is we do not properly examine and truly estimate and wisely use what we have "in OUR house."

Success is made up entirely of what we have and how we use it.

No man was ever born who did not have the possibility of success.

No man ever lived who did not have plenty of opportunity to succeed.

The man who says "I never had a chance," is just lying to himself as an excuse for his failure.

Lord Bacon said, "A wise man will make more opportunities than he finds," and that is much truer than the famous poem Senator Ingalls wrote that pictured opportunity as knocking only once at a man's door or the picture which Rabelais drew of Opportunity as a woman with a lock of hair on her forehead but with the back of her head completely bald; meaning that Opportunity must be grasped as it comes toward you for once it has passed there is nothing to seize.

Every day has its opportunity. Most of us think that these every-day opportunities are not big enough.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

I'll be a harp played on by life.
The good and bad that each year brings
Won't rest with me at all—my job
Is just to have no broken strings.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, July 28.—A tree on the roof, it seems, is the modern form of feather in the cap. I saw a nice, green, shady one perched on top of a formidable brick building away up town the other day and decided that there must be something to this talk of landlords getting in a concessional frame of mind. "Aha! Roof gardens for us poor oppressed tenants", thought I. "I shall insert a tree-clause when I sign my lease renewal next month." But nothing of the sort.

That tree, I learned, is the blown horn of a proud and conquering contractor. Whenever a contractor completes a building before the stipulated date, he has an age-old right to put a tree atop it to announce his triumph to the upward-peering world. Anyone who has ever had a building built will understand why we've never grown accustomed to seeing that particular adornment!

What is a doughnut? Is it baked, boiled or fried? That is the serious question which is preying upon the minds of the New York Supreme Court these heated days. Briefs on the matter have been filed with Justice Finch and the fate of the doughnut is soon to be decided. It was all started by Jacob and John Keeser who run a bakery and have sued another concern for making doughnuts in the window across the street from them. The doughnut makers, says Keeser brothers, had promised not to conduct a bakery within ten blocks of their place. "Taint a bakery," say the defendants. "Tis. Look at those there doughnuts," say Jacob and John. "Doughnuts are not baked."

NOTED EQUESTRIENNE WINS DIVORCE AND HUGE ALIMONY SPEEDILY

(International News Service)

OMAHA, July 28.—Justice wore the sandals of Mercury here in Circuit Court when Mrs. E. John Brandeis, noted Chicago horsewoman, was granted a divorce from E. J. Brandeis, Omaha merchant prince, within twenty-four hours. Mrs. Brandeis arrived here from San Francisco one Sunday evening and the very next evening left here for the coast—a divorcee.

Cruelty was the cause of action. It served to win Mrs. Brandeis $400,000 alimony and custody of her nine-month-old baby. There was no salacious testimony, no cross-examination of witnesses and no "hard feelings". Thus was justice enacted.

"Ervin has been cruel negligent to me," the young wife testified. "He has spent little time at home. He has spoken harshly and gruffly to me."

A maid corroborated her. That ended the testimony.

Brandeis, who is twenty-three, did not contest. The entire proceeding took only half an hour. Judge Wakeley signed the decree.

A certified check for $50,000 was handed to the newly divorced wife. She left the courtroom with her lawyers. Several hours later attorneys for Brandeis brought $350,000 in securities to her hotel room. Just at dusk that night she began her trip back to the Coast.

Meanwhile Brandeis, who has never seen his child, announced through his attorney he would take a year's hunting trip to Africa.

NUN IS CALLED IN JURY

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 27.—A nun living in a community in London has been summoned to serve as a woman juror in the High Courts.

The incident is giving rise to great agitation in Catholic and legal circles, as it will mean her breaking her vows, and a bill is now being drafted by the Catholic Union in England to give immunity to nuns.
